

SERGT. RAY SMITH JOINS IMHOFF POST

Heavyweight Boxing Star of A. E. F. Will Appear in Number of Shows

McCALL POST IS ACTIVE

George H. Imhoff Post has made what would appear to be a rather valuable addition to its ranks. This is the redoubtable Ray Smith, late sergeant of the A. E. F., and now one of the best heavyweight boxers in the country. The Imhoff Post is arranging a number of boxing shows, at which Smith will appear against the best opponents available. It will be remembered that the brave sergeant has already given several exhibitions at various benefit arrangements by the Legion. One of these gained for him the heavyweight championship among Legion boxers in New Jersey.

Stern Price Post 417 is preparing for the biggest and for this season the last of its "evenings." This will be April 27, at P. O. S. of A. Hall, 1817 North Broad street. Among the guests will be Clarence Loeb, Judge William M. Lewis, of the Municipal Court; Dr. L. B. Rogers, of the Veterans' Bureau, and Dr. William E. Rankin, deputy chairman of the Fourth Legion district.

More than 5000 invitations have been mailed to the Military Ball of Lieutenant Joseph S. Ferguson Post, No. 333, and its auxiliary, Naval Post, No. 107, and Benjamin C. Tillman Camp of the United Spanish War Veterans will also participate in this function. The date is Friday, May 1.

A presentation of that time-honored but undimmed melodramatic comedy, "Seven Keys to Baldpate," will be given by the members of Raymond C. Thos Post, No. 47, of Camden, in the Camden Y. M. C. A. April 21. The feminine parts will be given by members of the Junior Section of the Camden Women's Club.

Lawrence E. Delaney Post, No. 26, is planning ahead on plans for a street carnival to be held some time in July. The site for the carnival is to be announced later. Meantime, the auxiliary has arranged a card party for May 1.

Howard C. McCall Post, No. 21, announces the following program for the next month: April 24, smoker; appointment of baseball team April 27; benefit exhibitions at the Alhine Theatre week of May 1; "Fathers and Mothers" dinner May 13.
